

California Proposition 65 Declaration

California Proposition 65 - The Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986

The Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986 (known as California Proposition 65 or “Prop 65”) obliges companies who make or sell products in the State of California to abide by the following:

- To provide a clear and reasonable warning before knowingly and intentionally exposing anyone to chemicals that are known to the State to cause cancer or birth defects or other reproductive harm.
- To prohibit knowingly discharging or releasing a chemical on the Prop 65 List such that it is likely to, or will, enter any California drinking water source.

Prop 65 requires the State of California to maintain and update a list of chemicals known by the State to cause cancer or reproductive toxicity (“Prop 65 List”).

Certain Bulgin connectors and components may contain one or more chemicals on the Prop 65 List. During normal product use, these chemicals are not intended to be exposed to users, nor are they intended, or expected to be released or discharged to drinking water sources. Hence Bulgin products are not required to include warning related to Prop 65.

If Bulgin determines that its products carry a possibility of exposure to Prop 65 chemicals beyond Safe Harbour Limits, or risk discharge or release to drinking water sources, clear and reasonable warnings will be provided.

Bulgin’s products comply with all the relevant EU regulations, such as REACH, RoHS, and POP.
